

Light Is Born

A garden full of statues, full of gruesome beauty,
Eyes that cast a spell over you, and make you freeze.
Once loved and full of light, now betrayed and driven by rage,
You end your existence, in the shadow,
Of a curse that surrounds you

Light is born from darkness,
Wings carry you in the air,
Light is born from darkness,
Leave the shadows behind you.

Decades pass by, while you go into isolation,
Waiting in the dark, for your next soul.
Snakes pull your head,
their voices haunt your thoughts.

Light is born from darkness,
Wings carry you in the air,
Light is born from darkness,
Leave the shadows behind you.

Waiting in the dark, for your next soul.

Light is born from darkness,
Wings carry you in the air,
Light is born from darkness,
Leave the shadows behind you.

Light is born from darkness,
Wings carry you in the air,
Light is born from darkness,
Leave the shadows behind you.
