

Missed Chances

I stand admits the people, move to the music,

Turn around and see you-

As if I struck by lightning, I look at you, and now that the love of my life is standing there.

Your laughter lights up everything and make my knees weak.

I tell you I take my chance I speak to you, and I don't let you go anymore.

No more missed chances, with full energy,

I plunge into the adventure, today no one will stop me,

I know it well, today's my day, it's my time, I will never stop again.

Dancing from now on, forever and ever.

Finally, we faced each other, both are filled with joy,

Can hardly believe our luck,

With a beating heart I grab you by your belt and pull you to me,

Your body against mine,

I tell you I take my chance I speak to you, and I don't let you go anymore.

No more missed chances, with full energy,

I plunge into the adventure, today no one will stop me,

I know it well, today's my day, it's my time, I will never stop again.

No more missed chances, with full energy,
I plunge into the adventure, today no one will stop me,
I know it well, today's my day, it's my time, I will never stop again.