

Traitor

I ride on my horse, towards the glaring sunlight,
Driving my spurs deep, quickly the landscape passes,
Blurred before my eyes, not long I will find you,
Even when you hide full of fears.

Be warned my dearest, you will be judged,
30 steps, 20 steps, 10 steps, Stop.

Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, the rope awaits you,
Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, death awaits you.

Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, the rope awaits you,
Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, death awaits you.

With your slick ways, you fooled everyone,
You missed your one chance to make everything alright,
Instead, you lost your way, and pledged your soul to the wrong one at the crossroads.

Be warned my dearest, you will be judged,
The devil always claims his debts.

Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, the rope awaits you,
Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, death awaits you.

Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, the rope awaits you,
Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, death awaits you.

Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, the rope awaits you,
Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Your hours are numbered, death awaits you.

Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
Run traitor run, you will not escape me,
